

Community Through Dance

Building connections through spontaneous group dance events, team building, and environmental care.

About MDP

Mobile Dance Party is a social entertainment phenomenon that provides the environment for diverse groups of people to engage in spontaneous dance.

MDP formed organically when two friends danced their way through a music festival campground with a big Bluetooth speaker on wheels and suddenly found they had attracted a mobile party that moved with them. As the crowd grew, it attracted dozens of people from all directions. The spontaneous party lasted for hours and those who joined reported feelings of belonging and gratitude towards the other participants. Since, Bend Oregon has been introduced to MDP during public events with responses mirroring or even shadowing those from the initial music festival party.

As a business, MDP operates as an unincorporated association. Any activities or efforts are facilitated by a small number of volunteers. Ongoing fundraising efforts and for hire services are in place to raise venture capital. Once necessary funds are secured, MDP will seek proper legal and business consultation and begin pursuing non-profit status as a community service organization.

What We Do

We love local events, so when we're not busy working, we're busy dancing our way around as many First Friday Art Walks as possible. Or we're busting some stylish dance flare as we groove door to door on Halloween with our annual "Ding Dong Dance" celebration. We don't want your candy, just your dance moves. You might also find us on the 4th of July, roaming around the parks and downtown with our speaker, wagon and group of freshly dressed friends cleaning up whatever garbage we can find in-between our funky footwork.

We dream big! We see a future where MDP can provide FREE public events. Events such as dance lessons in the park, public concerts, up-cycling education events, and much more. We have a vision of becoming "sustainers", people who choose to step away from being "consumers" and take a step towards repairing, up-cycling, reusing, and recycling.

MDP seeks to unite uncommon individuals and groups because we believe that diverse and well connected communities are essential for a happy and healthy society.
